

Kettering

The bustling township of Kettering is a boating hot-spot for anyone wishing to cruise Southern Tasmania, as well as being the gateway to Bruny Island. Oyster Cove boasts myriad boating facilities including slipway, sail-makers, shipwrights, local food and produce, in addition to the Bruny Island Ferry Terminal – should you need vehicular access to the area. Our mooring is located on the northern end of the Cove, almost opposite the Ferry Terminal, where you are only a short dingy ride from the marina and Mermaid Café and gift shop – while still being far enough away to afford plenty of sea room and to avoid other vessels navigating within the bay. The mooring affords exceptional views to the north of Barnes Bay, south to Great Bay, with Apollo Bay directly across the Channel. While in the area, visit the Kettering Yacht Club to share a yarn or the Oyster Cove Inn for a drink with the locals.

About Island Mooring

Island Mooring is a groundbreaking, family-owned Tasmanian business whose owners wish to share their passion for boating around our island state. We provide short- and long-term mooring facilities for all types of craft, as well as offering a cruising route within the D'Entrecasteaux Channel. All moorings are registered with Marine and Safety Tasmania and are maintained in accordance with their guidelines and best practice.

Cruising Route

Our cruising route presently consists of nine professionally maintained swing moorings within the Channel and its northern approaches. Gone are the days of having to find a safe anchorage at the end of an otherwise relaxing day on the water. For an annual fee, boat owners now have the security of being able to book and use any number of moorings for short periods of time, year round, otherwise free of any charges. Cruise when and where you choose.

We are continually adding to our inventory of moorings, and would welcome suggestions from boat owners for new mooring locations and other cruising routes.

Fees

Subscriptions to our Channel cruising route are $200 a year, with mooring numbers and GPS fixes supplied when you subscribe. The subscription entitles you to free, short-term use of any, or all, of our cruising route moorings for 12 months. Contact us for terms and conditions, or to hire one of our other moorings on a long-term basis.

Happy cruising!
